

PRODUCTION ASSEMBLER – PM SHIFT

Position Description:

Reporting to the Production Team Lead, the Production Assembler is responsible for the assembly of mechanical and electronic components and final product testing. Attention to detail, quality awareness and team focus are key assets.

Responsibilities:

- Assemble mechanical and electronic components
- Follow production procedures and Team Lead instructions
- Conduct product testing on battery packs
- Perform in-process inspection paying close attention to detail
- Perform routine equipment maintenance and limited troubleshooting activities as required
- Ensure all work is performed safely, adhering to company safety policies and procedures
- Inspect and maintain tools required for the job
- Other tasks as required

Requirements:

- Must be able to work the afternoon shift from 3:30 pm to midnight Monday through Friday.
- minimum of 3 years' experience as a mechanical assembler
- Reasonable English speaking, reading and comprehension is required for training, understanding instructions and safety orientation
- Physically able to stand for extended periods and lift 20kg without assistance
- Time management and prioritization skills
- Training is provided but awareness of ESD sensitive component handling would be an asset.
- Some experience using computers would be an asset